The red 2018 Gran Bierzo El Culebral was produced like the wines from yesteryear, recovering the old raw concrete vats and a field blend of 80% Mencía and 20% Palomino from the El Culebral vineyard in Magaz de Arriba. Despite its 13% alcohol, it has notes of raisins and also flavors of very ripe grapes. It is juicy and fruit-driven, fluid and tasty, with fine tannins and lovely rusticity. It matured in concrete for six months. 20,000 bottles produced.
